Have a wonderful & relaxing summer.
Band starts back on Friday 5th September.
New members are very welcome to join us then.

A warm welcome to this evening's concert and thanks very much for coming along.

I remember our previous concerts here being particularly enjoyable (and apparently quite loud), so it was a complete surprise to realise those were 21 years ago. To make up for that long gap we've brought along a wonderful programme of music ranging from classics, films, musicals, swing & pop, so we hope you enjoy listening as much as we'll enjoy playing.

For those of you who haven't seen us before, a little history. The band was formed in 1978 by a distinguished army bandsman who was also one of Colchester's most popular peripatetic music teachers. In those days the band contained predominantly school-age musicians as anyone Sid taught (including myself, my two siblings, and my wife) were recruited into the band, but after Sid passed away in 1990 the band matured into a mix of young players & previously young players, and it's that mix of ages that has kept the band successful for the past 35 years. Despite those changes the band remains aligned to Sid's original vision - we remain a band based on enjoyment, playing all musical styles, and encouraging young musicians.

The band also continues to raise money for local & national charities at its concerts - in the last 20 years we've raised almost £48,000 so we're delighted that you're helping us raise funds tonight for the Churches Conservation Trust.

Thanks again for coming - we hope you enjoy the concert.

Graham.
