

West Bergholt Concert Band

If your child is learning to play a woodwind or brass instrument then joining the Training Band of the West Bergholt Concert Band could help them to develop their skill and confidence.

Our Training Band is suitable for young musicians, from primary school age upwards, learning a wind or brass instrument between grades 1-5. Your child will benefit from the opportunity of playing in a large ensemble under the guidance of our more experienced players, improving skills in sight reading and musicianship and gaining confidence in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere. Over the years the band has helped many young players develop their newly formed musical skills.

Training Band meets at Heathlands School, West Bergholt every Friday during term-time between 6-7pm. We have many young members and guarantee a warm welcome.
